

I wanted to drop a note mentioning my opposal to the national Do Not Call list. As an employee with a telemarketing company providing over 10,000 jobs, I see this affecting business, and possibly my job. As a customer, I welcome calls from businesses offering me further services.